

Call for Volunteers

Annual Cincinnati Canstruction® Competition

The American Institute of Architects (AIA) and Society for Design Administration (SDA) Cincinnati are seeking volunteers within the design community to serve on a planning committee for the Annual Cincinnati Canstruction® competition! Planning begins in the fall, and our event rolls out in March of each year, when the FreestoreFoodbank is most in need of food. Architects, interior designers, engineers, marketing professionals and contractors are strongly encouraged to participate. If you are interested in helping with the planning of this fun and vital community event, please complete the form below. Please indicate the committee(s) for which you would like to volunteer.
